Bubba's Brain Teaser

Answer will be printed in the next issue of Concrete Today.

Question:

A piece of rebar is 30 inches long. If you cut it with a rebar cutter into one-inch pieces, how many cuts would it take?

Answer to the last issue's brain teaser:

John has a 7-minute hour glass and an 11-minute hour-glass.

Can you explain the quickest way John can time a boiling egg for 15 minutes?

ANSWER:

Start both hour glasses as the egg is dropped in boiling water. When the first one runs out, turn it over. (Elapsed time so far is 7 minutes.) When the second timer runs out, turn it over, too. When the first one runs out again (after a total of 14 minutes), the second timer has been running for one minute since it was restarted, so turn it over again. When the one minute runs out, the egg is ready.
